Press Release

“two julias”, the timely story of a collision between online dating and unwarranted surveillance, Premieres at ReelHeART, June 18, 2008

Seattle, WA – APRIL 16, 2008 The esteemed ReelHeART International Film Festival (RHIFF) screens the Canadian premiere of the narrative short film the “two julias” as part of its 2008 line-up.

Counter-terrorism Agent Frank Armstrong has a problem - his girlfriend Lillian is obsessed with spying on single women. Thanks to the U.S. Patriot Act, what pleases Lil, pleases Frank. Watched by suspicious agents from around the world, Frank and Lillian kick their spying up a notch with Julia Carter. Julia's first meeting with Dave, supposedly single Seattle salesman, will be a little coffee and conversation. Frank and Lillian turn the awkward first date upside down, but the clock is ticking. Featuring talent from four continents, dialogue in 7 languages (subtitled in English) and music in 3 languages, this micro-budget short packs politics, lust, danger and twisted love into 17 minutes. If you like a film that's a skillfully weaved brain tickler, do not miss this premiere!

“two julias”, is a narrative short film examines whether love really is a crime, is the fifth short film from Tom McIntire and his first major festival screening. Mr. McIntire's short, A Forest Saved, was a finalist in the 2005 Washington Mutual WaMovies Competition.

Break a heart in 7 languages with “two julias”, screening Wednesday June 18 at 8 PM at Southern Accent Restaurant, 595 Markham Street (1 Block West of Honest Ed's), Toronto, ON M6G 2L7.

Tickets are $6 and include FREE KERNELS Gourmet Popcorn and Creole canapés courtesy of Southern Accent Restaurant. Advance Ticket Sales on line April 21, 2008 at www.reelheart.com/
